

about IngentaConnect

IngentaConnect is the most comprehensive collection of online academic and professional publications.

Easily navigable and accessibility compliant,

IngentaConnect has attracted a global audience of users in over 19000 registered institutions. More than 19 million user sessions are conducted each month.

A network of ways in which users can find research materials has been developed. It totals over 40 distribution and indexing partnerships, including subscription agents, document delivery services, abstracting and indexing services and Google.

Access options are flexible to meet business needs:

subscriptions can be activated or purchased online; articles, chapters, issues and editions can be sold individually; free trials and other offers can be made.

Experience in online publishing is Ingenta's strength.

As the technology partner for the Oxford Scholarship Online monograph collection, the World Bank e-library and SourceOECD, as well as nearly ten years experience in e-journal services, Ingenta understands the needs of publishers who want to move their collections online.

Book collections Online solutions

Your books

available online for users to search, access online or immediate download, with own branding and links to your own website.

Why?

Interest in book chapters is as great as in journal articles. Online journals have been a success, so it makes sense to use the same approach with books.

Availability of print copies is a problem with books, readers often find them out of print or on loan to someone else. Offering books online for immediate viewing breaks down these access barriers.

Discovering past research and commentary can be valuable to writers. Perhaps the perfect material for them is in your back catalogue, but how would they find it? Taking your books online within a searchable database solves this problem for you and the researcher.

Revenue generation is limited in traditional book publishing, sometimes to a single print run. Online books have continuous potential for sale as books or individual chapters.

How?

Send Ingenta your books, either as PDFs for in house conversion or as PDFs and SGML metadata. Alternatively, take advantage of our new online service for creating your own metadata; perfect for books and archive projects.

Enhance your content with supplementary data and links to cited journals.

Brand your content. Each book is displayed with a cover image, your branding plus links to your own website, or your print sales provider.

Make revenue choices. Your books and individual chapters can be sold for immediate download or online access over a chosen period of time. Access sold off-line can also be activated for online use.

When?

Now. Your books and chapters are a potential target for every search carried out on IngentaConnect and Google. Put your books online now to make sure you don't miss out on any revenue.
