Convenient, and uniquely efficient, document delivery

Combine our sophisticated payment account module with our holdings blocking and OpenURL compliancy components to ensure your users reach the content they need, at the moment they need it, without wasting your budget on duplicate versions of content you hold elsewhere. Leading-edge features include:

- Multiple cost centers and authorization options
- Mediated and unmediated document purchasing
- Integration of online and offline collections
- Easy blocking of content already purchased, through holdings upload and full link server support.

Sophisticated and comprehensive current awareness

Our competitively-priced email alerting is fully OpenURL-compliant and covers our full collection of 13,500 publications. A license entitles users to be alerted to new issues of a chosen journal and new articles containing user-specified search terms.

Extensive options for customization

Remind and reassure your users that the services and content they are using are endorsed and administrated by their library. ingentaconnect Complete enables you not only to apply banner branding to all pages but also to control contextual messaging around the site. You can, for example,

- n specify the wording with which users should be presented
- n when downloading an article (“courtesy of the Library”) designate text to direct users to other online or offline holdings.
